

Mission Statement

The Positive Powerful Parents Self Advocacy Group is a self advocacy group run by and for parents with an intellectual disability.

We strongly believe that every parent with an intellectual disability has their own unique way of parenting, and the voice of parents with a disability needs to be heard and actioned.

Why PPP began

We started because of the numbers of parents with an intellectual disability who do not get the support they need to keep their children.

POSITIVE POWERFUL PARENTS

POSITIVE POWERFUL
PARENTS

We are a Self Advocacy Group for parents with a disability.

What we offer

Our Group is important

The Positive Powerful Parents Self Advocacy Group (PPP) provides:

- Support
- Respect
- A safe place to talk
- Connections to other parents with a similar experience
- Meetings

- Morning Tea catch ups in Melbourne and Morwell
- Training to start your own Parent Group
- The opportunity to become a PPP member

The Positive Powerful Parents Self Advocacy Group will work to make sure that parents with disability:

- have the same rights as any other parent in the community and not be treated differently
- receive support, education and resources they need to keep children at home
- have the same right to get children back as any other parent and to be provided with the right support to make this happen
- get funding to support access to their children when they do not live at home
- can use parenting as a goal in their NDIS plan
- know they are not alone
- are treated with respect
